Welcome

This is a space where children and adults can create moments together. Look around and see what most appeals to your child and you.

Whether you'll end up on the carpet with a book, laying a puzzle or stepping into a fantasy world of your own, perhaps you'll find that playing, reading and learning are not separate things, but all equally important roads to discovery – for you and for your child.

When books and play interact with learning, it's an invitation to see the world in new ways.

Enjoy!

Special thanks to IKEA XX, Littlephant, and the publishers that have contributed with generous book donations. (lägg också till om ni vill tacka någon samarbetspart etc)
